Take the Veil Cerpin Taxt

The Mars Volta

You must have been phlegmatic in stature The gates of thanos are a spread eagle wide You let the shutters make sackcloth and ashes Out of a blind mans picaresque heart

You take the veil You'll take the dive You take the veil

It's not over till the tremulant sings These ides of march Are they so make believe How tempts the revenant Slice up and not across

You take the veil You'll take the dive You take the veil

A mass of gallon sloth As flys have walls for feet A rapturous verbatim-someone said but who is to know And when you find the fringe The one last hit that spent you You'll find the ossuary spilling by the day

The iconoclastic had it coming for years They know the prisons that you have yet to fear Where thumbs hide inside of sleepingbag mouths Adlib your memoires by casting a drought

You take the veil You'll take the dive You take the veil

A mass of gallon sloth As flys have walls for feet A rapturous verbatim-someone said but who is to know And when you find the fringe The one last hit that spent you You'll find the ossuary spilling by the day

Knife me in -hobbeling Talking in it's sleep again Knife me in-hobbeling Talking in it's sleep again

Knife me in hobbling Talking in it's sleep again Knife me in hobbling Talking in It's sleep again

Virulent hives- of bedpost piles Virulent hives

Who brought me here Forsaken, depraved and wrought with fear Who turned it off The last thing I remember now Who brought me here Forsaken, depraved and wrought with fear Who turned it off The last thing I remember now Who brought me here
