

I Should Know

The Mavericks

Every night alone
Every night I spent without you
Every little thing about you
Runs right through my mind

I wonder where you are
And do you ever think about me
And if you get the feeling that
There's something missing too

But I should know
You'll never come back to me
Even though I will always love you
I should know

I'm the one to blame
Something I did fine without you
Though I could fool myself
And tell me everything's alright

Every night alone
And every night I spent without you
Every little thing about you
Runs right through my mind

But I should know
You'll never come back to me
Even though I will always love you
I should

I should know
You'll never come back to me
Even though I will always love you
I should

I should know
You'll never come back to me
Even though I will always love you
I should