

Fantastic Voyage

The Mekons

Every night from my window I see the lights all over town I'll meet you in the boneyard after the sun goes down I need the medicine only you create I need - I need it now

The temptation on the street is more than any saint could stand I have to bite my tongue and keep on walking straight ahead you have got to draw the line between what you want and what you need

Up in the clouds (Aaah up in the clouds) down in the dirt it's so good so good it hurts
Repeat

Lying in the dirt Looking up at the twinkling stars struggle in the darkness with the buttons on my shirt this is meant to be a painkiller but it's so good it hurts

Chains and incense fill the air but I'm nowhere near a church pull my knees up to my chest and have the nightmares of a child this is meant to be painkiller but it's so good it hurts
