

Prendre les mors aux dents and just pickup whoever you want the sea turns black with robot's blood and a terrible beauty is born you animals can't see your own captivity and you won't ever come home now you won't ever come home the king of the pirates has left for the summit his house left wide open as photocells flicker and die a pair of giant's hands sink into the sand and tear out the family silver top pay off the stooges we hired the graveyard scene looks fine the skull gets all the best lines

and you won't ever come home now

lovely assassin
go puncture the surface dressed up like a lifeguard you watch the bubbles break through the bridle and the bit will lead you into the ditch

and you won't ever come home now

go strike without warning dressed up like a fireman with sparks matches and oil la la la la
