Put Another Chair At The Table

The Mills Brothers

The star in the window took my place for a while But I know that I'm still in your heart My place at the table has been empty for so long But soon I'll be ready to start

So put another chair at the table Set another place there for me I know that you've been blue And you have missed me too But now I'm coming home to you, my dear So put another chair at the table Put another chair there for me

Put another chair at the table Set another place there for me I know that you've been blue And you have missed me too But now I'm coming home to you, my dear Put another chair at the table Put another chair there for me

The time will soon be here When I'll be standing there Right back where I belong So put another chair at the table Put another chair there for me