

Cocoon

The Mission

I feel your warmth around me
In the touch of your hand
I feel you warm surround me
The swell of a wave that breaks upon the sand

I'm drifting
I'm floating
I'm rising
Within you

I have never knew surrender quite like this
In such chained embrace can have and only exist
And even though i may be a butterfly soon
I am still just a chrysalis in you
You are my cocoon

You are my cocoon

It's raining, it's cold outside
But i feel so warm inside of you
Nothing can touch me in here
I could live forever inside of you

I'm drifting
I'm floating
I'm rising
Within you

I have never knew surrender quite like this
In such chained embrace can have and only exist
And even though i could be a butterfly soon
I am still just a chrysalis in you
You are my cocoon

You are my cocoon
