

The Light That Pours From You

The Mission

I still remember the very first kiss
And the blood on the sheets
And like the stars that shoot through the night
We crash and burn in the heat.
There's never any shadow if you don't have light
The darkest hour comes before dawn
And Heaven knows the colour you bring to everything
And love will always defeat brawn

You blaze like the neon in a Tokyo night
You dazzle and you shine so bright
You burn like the sun and I can't look away
I'm being blinded by the light that pours from you

And to be tempted by hunger for the flesh
No refuge from our appetites
And beauty comes from always deep within
It's easy to be tricked by the light
I don't have to tell you always how I feel
Some things are better left unsaid
For temples are built in union and faith
Let's tame your wild stallions instead

You blaze like the neon in a Las Vegas night
You dazzle and you shine so bright
You burn like the sun and I can't look away
I'm being blinded, blinded by the light that pours from you

I still remember the very first time
My eyes were seared by you
And from that blinding moment all I've wanted to do
Is lose myself deep in you

You blaze like the neon in a Tokyo night
You dazzle and you shine so bright
You burn like the sun and I can't look away
I'm being blinded, blinded by the light that pours from you
