Foolish Love

The Moody Blues

We ran through the summer fields Between the earth and sky Little did we realize We were flying you and I

We sang to the stars above
We praised the earth below
You fell into my arms that night
And I've never let you go

It was beautiful, glorious We were riding on a wave With foolish hearts, and foolish love We would give ourselves away

Remember how we cried out loud Heard angry voices shout I love you as I loved you then No danger and no doubt

It was beautiful, glorious
We were riding on a wave
With foolish hearts, and foolish love
We would give ourselves away

And now as we look behind To see the road of life Turning to the ones we love Salvation is in sight

'Cause it was beautiful, glorious We were riding on a wave With foolish hearts, and foolish love We would give ourselves away

Remember how we cried out loud Heard angry voices shout I love you as I loved you then No danger and no doubt
