

Joyclad Armies

The Moog

When every angry word
Turns into love
When all the repressed hurt
Fades out we rise above

It's all because of you
Your light clears up my
Darkest ways
Your scent remains

My soul evaporates
In your calm fire
And I give up on fate
Running from the liars

They're howling after me
But I forget to worry when
I see you again

Don't leave me now
I don't know how
To fight Joyclad Armies
They kill slowly
With fake mercy
And bury you with care

This sinister dull dusk
Crawls into me
It leaves only a husk
Of my daring dreams
Your voice can change it all
It is a shield that no one breaks
The silence quakes
