

The Secret Path

The Moon and the Nightspirit

Listen, Mother Earth is calling,
From forests, desolate and old
Strange whispers from a time forgotten
From realms amaranthine

Behold, the secret path awaits you
The passage, only seen by a few
Enter without fear, beloved one of the Earth
And return to where you belong

Leave the hateful towns, the blinded fools of Maya
Open thy inner eye, that sees through the veil,
Where lies the Truth Eternal, hidden from mortal eyes
Listen to the call, child of the Unnamable

Behold, the secret path awaits you
The passage, only seen by a few
Enter without fear, beloved one of the Earth
And return to where you belong
