

I Know You've Come to Take My Toys Away

The Mountain Goats

Sun flashing red and then orange then opting for secession

On the day when you came to the door with you terrible confession

I know you've come to take my toys away and

I know you've come to take my toys away

Skin flushing red and then glowing when you come inside

And the moonlight watching all over you i have got my mouth open wide

I know you've come to take my toys away and

I know you've come to take my toys away

And when it drops, you're gonna feel it.

Oh yeah

Oh yeah
