

Your words cut me deeper each time.
You can't see me, but to you I'm blind.
Your words cut me deeper each time.
You can't see me.

He said, "I don't want to hear excuses."
I said that I just don't feel the same way you do.
It seems like every day it's the same thing with me and you. It
's true.

Your words cut me deeper each time.
You can't see me, but to you I'm blind.
Your words cut me deeper each time.
You can't see me.

Each day I see we're getting nowhere.
Some days it seems I'm trying harder than you.
You put my head underwater, and hold it down.

And when it all comes down I don't want to be around.
'Cause I know it's my fault. You pinned it on me.
Why does everything you get off your chest end up on my back?

Your words cut me deeper each time.
You can't see me, but to you I'm blind.
Your words cut me deeper each time.
You can't see me!
