

Pinky Swear

The Movieline

Promises, promises I know I can keep.
In too deep. I'm in too deep, I'm in too deep to sleep,
But I, I'll be on that train. You better feel the same way.

You're in my heart. Three thousand miles away.
Right from the start, you were a challenge to me.

Hoping you, I'm hoping you don't forget the pact,
The one we made the night that we broke into the park,
And I, I'll be on that train. You better feel the same way.

You're in my heart. Three thousand miles away.
Right from the start, you were a challenge to me.

Promises, promises I know I can keep.
In too deep. I'm in too deep.

You're in my heart. Three thousand miles away.
Right from the start, you were a challenge to me.

You were a challenge to me.
Right from the start, you were a challenge to me.
Right from the start, you were a challenge to me.
Right from the start, you were a challenge to me.
Right from the start.
