The Movieline

"Don't feel you've failed me. My pleasure is in making you happy. She wondered how many other women had he said the same thing to."

Yeah, I see the tunnel but I don't see the light.
Step back, you're blocking my view.
Peek over your shoulder to try and get a glimpse.
But I can't, all I see is you.

I've tried too hard for this. You cannot hold me down, hold me down.
Drove way too far for this. You cannot hold me down, hold me down.

Thinking clear now that you're gone. No voices in my head.
And when you left I couldn't quite hear what you said.

And all I need now is my friends. The possibilities don't end.
And all I need now is my friends.

Thinking clear now that you're gone. No voices in my head.
And when you left I couldn't quite hear what you said.

And all I need now is my friends. The possibilities don't end.
And all I need now is my friends.
