Re-Activate Your Heart

The Mr. T Experience

You've been spilling all over me Ever since I broke your seal Now you're seeping into my memory And storming my Bastille The world can see you fell for me When I unscrewed your lid 'cause I'm the one who told you so And you're the one who did

Hey hey yeah yeah wo wo Re-active your heart

Our entaglements and ties Of which we often spoke They're attracted to us like flies We drift away like smoke If they steal our hearts, and other parts It's only petty theft But I lost track of all of them And you're the one that's left. Hey hey yeah yeah wo wo Re-activate your heart

And I'm lost inside a dream Hooked up to your machine When I hear you screaming: Darling, it's all right

There's someone you connect into When all is said and done It's unlikely to be you So I must be the one

Hey hey yeah yeah wo wo Re-activate your heart
