

Together Tonight

The Mr. T Experience

There was a time when I had you back I let it go by fear prejudice pride melancholy or tact I don't really know why when there was nothing but time I let it go by what am I coughing up I don't even know why we should be talking not just tying up the phone line let's be together tonight I don't know why I'm a time bomb waiting to go off but even if I should lose my mind that's really no loss even if I lose my mind it would be no loss even though I know it wouldn't mean a whole lot I'm getting tired of being rock 'em sock 'em robots let's be together tonight oh oh oh oh oh if ever I have you back again I'm gonna hold on tight the question is now the answer is when the meaning is all night if ever I have you again well I'll hold on tight nothing can hold me back when I hold you all night come over and I'll pretend that everything is all right let's be together tonight.
