

Kiss Of Death

The Murder of My Sweet

Angels are crying
The day has escaped
Feel the shivering raindrops on my shoulders
I enter your playground
Shadows appear
From the darkened horizon of my spirit

Feel a breath on my cheek
Feel your arms around me
Gently guiding me through your world
of fear
It's passionate sight
It's forbidden my right
To believe you can save me from choosing my faith

I'm feeling so cold
But I'm not afraid
I'm waiting for you to take my winter
away
A black frozen rose
My body, my soul
Guess I'm facing the kiss of death
(when I look in your eyes)
(when I look in your eyes)

Watching the mirror
I search for your soul
To remind me of ancient myth you stand for
An empty reflection
Is what I await
A lifetime of wandering through the shadows

Feel a breath on my cheek
Feel your arms around me
Gently guiding me through your world
of fear
It's passionate sight
It's forbidden my right
To believe you can save me from
choosing my faith

I'm feeling so cold
But I'm not afraid
I'm waiting for you to take my winter
A black frozen rose
My body, my soul
Guess I'm facing the kiss of death
(when I look in your eyes)

A desperation in my veins
(Shadows are calling thy name)
This night has soon come to an end

(Shadows are calling thy name)

Angels are begging for me to escape
A lifetime of wandering through the shadows

(I'm feeling so cold but I'm not afraid)
I'm waiting for you to take my winter away
A black frozen rose
My body, my soul
Guess I'm facing the kiss of death
(when I look in your eyes)
(when I look in your eyes)
