

Resurrection

The Murder of My Sweet

You're asking for reasons, don't understand
My choice my decisions, why do I rush to decide?
You can't revive a heart that's died and turned to stone
Make it undone
I wish I could tell you that I'll be alright

Forgive me for leaving, not to be found
I'll watch from a distance, you'll never know I'm around
I wish I could spare you from hurting inside

Seconds turn to minutes turn to hours turn too late
Got to figure out the riddle, give it one more day

Don't blame me forever
The choice ins my own
Don't hate me, tomorrow
When I'm gone
Here it comes
My resurrection

Would you recognize me if I returned here?
Been gone for a decade, frozen in time it appears
You'll carry the memories I'll carry your pain

Seconds turn to minutes turn to hours turn too late
Got to figure out the riddle, give it one more day

I am ready now for the first time in my life
Got a second chance but the time is running out
Don't cry
I'm fine
There's so many things left undone

Chorus repeat
You're asking for reasons don't understand
Resurrection
Resurrection
Resurrection
My resurrection
