

The One

The Murder of My Sweet

Monday, stuck on the highway
Can't stand the sunlight
Burning my pale skin, slowly
Can't wait to go, let tension grow
My V8 knows I want to escape

Taking the fast lane
Living on the edge
Breaking the law again

You light my fire, burning me yup
Enough to wake up the woman I am
For thousand hours, taming my thunder
Making me hunger
For you are the one

Tuesday, just me and the horizon
I miss your kisses
Like yesterday
My V8 pumps my blood again

Taking the fast lane
Living on the edge
Breaking the law again

Chorus

The road is getting longer and longer
It's like I'll never reach the end
I'm on the road that leads to nowhere
I'm driving to get home to you
I long to see your face

You light my fire
Burning me yup
Enough to wake up the woman I am
For thousand hours, taming my thunder
Making me hunger
For you are the one
You light, you light my fire, you light,
you light my fire
You light my fire, burning me up
For you are the one
For you are the one
You light my fire, you light my fire
For you are the one
