

Unbreakable

The Murder of My Sweet

Lately I
I've started to doubt my self
I blame it on someone else
So typical
Truth is I
I can't really comprehend
Why nothing has gone my way
But I won't let it break me

There's a light
That's hidden deep within us
And it shines
It's right there when we need it
Search your heart
You've got it I can see it

For every bet that you've lost
For every dream that you lived
Whatever they tell you we are not weak at all

Baby we're unbreakable
For every hurt that it cost
For every tear that you weep
Whatever they tell you we are not weak at all
Baby we're unbreakable

Times are rough
But baby you know you're tough
Cause we are untouchable
Unstoppable
Touch the sky
The limit is in your mind
You fall and get up again
Again until you reach it

There's a light
That's hidden deep within us
Search your heart
You've got it I can see it

Soon enough
Your true colours will shine bright
Down they go
All the walls come tumbling down
Like a rock
We're unbreakable
