

What
Do you keep on fighting for
The problematic storms
Get lost at sea
Why
Do you keep on trying for
The proclamations
They would leap ashore
Nothing

But it's alright
Because you know that you're alike
And the world
Is a reflection of your life
So you know
But you never really see
We cast it down
And then we turn the other cheek

No
No you can't keep fooling me
You won't catch no heart with a
Broke machine
Why
Are you for real
Tell me now
How does it make you feel
You feel

But it's alright
Because you know that you're alike
And the world
Is a reflection of your life
So you know
But you never really see
We cast it down
And then we turn the other cheek
