The Ends

The Naked and Famous

The words escape you much too fast Before you gave yourself a chance For all the times I've let it pass It's all about to end at last It's all about to end at last It's all about to end at last It's all about to end at last