Afraid of Everyone

The National

Then I'm radio and then I'm television I'm afraid of everyone, I'm afraid of everyone Lay the young blue bodies with the old red bodies I'm afraid of everyone, I'm afraid of everyone With my kid on my shoulders I try Not to hurt anybody I like But I don't have the drugs to sort, I don't have the drugs to sort it out, sort it out

I defend my family with my orange umbrella I'm afraid of everyone, I'm afraid of everyone With my shiny new starspangled tennis shoes on I'm afraid of everyone, I'm afraid of everyone With my kid on my shoulders I try Not to hurt anybody I like But I don't have the drugs to sort, I don't have the drugs to sort it out, sort it out I don't have the drugs to sort it out, sort it out

Little voices swallowing my soul, soul, soul
