I have your good clothes in the car So cut your hair so no one knows I have your dreams and your teethmarks And all my fingernails are painted

I'm here to take you now

You were right about the end It didn't make a difference Everything I can remember I remember wrong

How can anybody know
How they got to be this way?
You must have known
I'd do this someday

Break my arms around the one I love and be forgiven by the time my lover comes

Break my arms around my love

Break my arms around the one I love and be forgiven by the time my lover comes

Break my arms around my love

I don't have any questions
I don't think it's gonna rain
You were right about the end
It didn't make a difference

How can anybody know
How they got to be this way?
You must have known
I'd do this someday

Break my arms around the one I love and be forgiven by the time my lover comes

Break my arms around my love

Break my arms around the one I love and be forgiven by the time my lover comes

Break my arms around my love
