

Goodbye Eyes

The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band

So you found me again
Well, this ain't gonna be nothin' like before
Before tonight we couldn't be friends
Find a bar and talk old times until they closed the door.

Well, I'd even take you home
But I'd rather leave alone
I don't want to get caught in your goodbye eyes again.

You say you're sorry for leavin' me
Well, the pain is like the past, it's all just memories
I could fall again this evenin'
But to share the blue that I've been through won't let me be th at easy.

So forgive me if I look away
I'll hear all you have to say
But I won't get caught in your goodbye eyes again.

Oh, tonight I'll sleep alone
But tomorrow I won't find you gone
I'll miss you but I missed you for so long.

I can't miss you anymore
So I've been hidin', tryin' not to look in
I don't want to get caught in your goodbye eyes again.

So, please, forgive me if I look away
I'll hear all you have to say
But I won't get caught in your goodbye eyes again.

Yes, tonight I'll sleep alone
But tomorrow I won't find you gone
I'll miss you but I missed you for so long.

I can't miss you anymore
So I've been away a lot, tryin' not to be where you have been
I did not want to get caught in your goodbye eyes again.

Oh, blue, blue ocean, please, don't swallow me
I don't want to get caught in your goodbye eyes again
I don't want to get caught in your goodbye eyes again.
