

What's On Your Mind

The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band

You don't have to tell somethin'
Baby, that I already know
And you can't really tell me nothin'
All you got to do is let it show

Well, you got yourself in a sticky situation
Friends are gettin' few and hard to find
Well, you can't really tell me nothin'
'Cause you got to see I know what's on your mind
What's on your mind

I can tell you've seen some changes
I guess that where you thought it should be
Took your life and rearranged it
Surprised to see you driftin' back to me

But you know we always need a friend to lean on After all the things that we've been through
Well, you don't have to worry, baby
'Cause you know I'll always find the time for you
The time for you

Take awhile to get it all together
Then you find before too long things are feelin' better

Ooh, you know we always need a friend to lean on
And after all the things that we've been through
Well, you don't have to worry, baby
'Cause you know I'll always find the time for you
The time for you
The time for you
The time for you