The Nixons

I'm the one you've always dreamed of
But could never touch
Say that I don't do anything for you
Then I do too much

Can you see my halo?
My halo is wearing thin
Can you feel the hollow?
Somewhere sucks me in

Move into your own dimensia
I bounce the world upon my knee
Roll away the stone in your mind
And tell me what you see

Can you see my halo?
My halo is fading fast
Can you feel the hell that
Burns me somewhere in my past?

We don't laugh, we don't cry, we don't even wonder why
We don't give, we don't take, we don't give into your fate
We're no God, we're no sun, we're no holy spirit
We don't smile, we don't hate you

I'm the one you've always dreamed of
Never thought to see it through
This is what you want me to be, what you want me to be
We don't smile, we don't hate you

Give into your hate, give into your hate
Give into your hate, give into your hate
Give into your hate, give into your hate
Give into your hate, give into your hate

We don't laugh, we don't cry, we don't even wonder why
We don't give, we don't take, we don't give into your fate
We're no God, we're no sun, we're no holy spirit
We don't smile, we don't hate you

We don't laugh, we don't cry, we don't even wonder why
We don't give, we don't take, we don't give into your fate
We're no God, we're no sun, we're no holy spirit
We don't smile, we don't hate you, yeah

We don't laugh, we don't hate you
We won't call, we don't hate you

Give into your hate, give into your hate
Give into your hate, give into your hate
Give into your hate, give into your hate
Give into your hate
