Brandy

The O'Jays

Sittin' by the open fireplace in my favorite dungarees
Played a few bars of a melody, and it sounded sweet to me
I thought I'd get up and take a look around, but my feet got in the way
Stumbled to the floor, she was right in the door, I could see h er face

But how could it be, she ran away from me My best friend's gone, I'm so all alone

I kinda miss you Brandy, I'm so all alone When are you coming back home? I really miss you Brandy, missing you everyday Are you coming home to stay? 'Cause I love you Brandy, oh yeah yeah

Sippin' on a cherry soda pop, building houses made of sand Like a little child with a fantasy, just a fraction of a man But I was in love when they put it down Oh, my doorstep in the rain I could feel the love coming to my heart, through my window pan e

But how could I know, she would just up and gone My best friend gone, I'm so all alone

I really miss you Brandy, I'm so all alone When are you coming back home? I really miss you Brandy, missing you everyday Are you coming home to stay?

I kinda miss you Brandy When are you coming back home? I'm so all alone I really miss you Brandy, missing you everyday Are you coming home to stay?

Oh, I really miss you Brandy, I'm so all alone When are you coming back home? Oh, I really miss you Brandy, missing you everyday Are you coming home to stay?

I really miss you, oh, Brandy When are you coming back home? I'm so all alone I really miss you
