

Bridges And Walls

The Oak Ridge Boys

Some friends you'd cry for
You, I would die for.
and I love you too much
to beg you to stay.
You have your own plans
But it makes my heart sad
Watching my best friend walking away.

Love's never easy
And who knows what's fair.
I guess I'm still feeling
What's no longer there.
When hearts go to pieces
Love crumbles and falls,
Like stones made of memories
From bridges and walls.

Hope tomorrow brings good news
'Cause I'm sure gonna miss you.
If I look away now, please understand
'Cause my eyes refuse to see
Something I can't believe.
The very best part of me, come to an end.

But love's never easy
And who knows what's fair.
I guess I'm still feeling
What's no longer there.
When hearts go to pieces
Love crumbles and falls
Like stones made of memories
From bridges and walls.

Yer, like stones made of memories
From bridges and walls.
