The Ocean Blue

Wake up all your dreams
Show them to the door
They're not wanted any more
They're not needed any more

I don't think you know
I don't think you care
I don't think you want to
and you don't

Tear up all the lies
The oft repeated lines
That you've murmured while asleep
That you've babbled while awake

I don't think you know
I don't think you care
I don't think you want to
and you don't you don't
