The Old Dead Tree

Regarding Kate

Kate is sad She feels like she's losing interest In love She's disappointed By life

Oh sweet star Please shine Shine for her in the dark You know sometimes it can help To sleep

Oh all, all of her life she's been waiting For the great love, the perfect wedding

Kate thinks that the sky Will soon, will soon turn to grey The clouds are so dark today She says:

"Oh sweet star Please shine Shine for me in the dark You know sometimes it can help To sleep"

Oh all, all of her life she's been waiting For the great love, the perfect wedding

All for one and none for her She prepares herself to live alone Driven by despair She sleeps And slips deeper

So cold is her bed at night No shelter for her during the storm She'd like to vanish out of sight To sleep Sleeping the slips down

She doesn't want to show Her soul in the raw

She lives her life her own way She needs to enjoy each day "Don't worry" she says

She's really fine Smiling and laughing all the time She says she's fine But she knows she's wrong

She lives her life her own way But cries over her life She needs to enjoy each day With fake smiles on her face Why should life be so heavy She cannot stand this idea She lives her life her own way But Kate is so sad
