A Sudden Death

Day after day, they go They go to gain just a little more control And when they took yours away I couldn't sleep at all I lay in bed for days

I died a sudden death I made an awful mess I didn't stand a chance I didn't stand a chance

'Cause when we where our best I could care less if people bred themselves To death Oh, but now that you are gone I just know that everything is wrong

Don't leave me alone now ...
