

I Can't Live A Dream

The Osmonds

The day that you moved away,
Life was so empty.
All I had left,
Was your memory.

Memory, memory.

Livin', it seems,
What was left,
Was a dream.
A dream of the way,
It used to be.

But I can't live a dream,
Any more than I can live forever.
Any more than I can climb a mountain,
To the sun.
To the sun...
To the sun...

No I can't live a dream,
Any more than I can move a mountain.
Any more than I can live my life,
Without you.
Can't live, no...
No I can't live...

No, no,
No, no...

All of the things I done,
Leaving me lonely.
All of the nights,
Of missing you only.
Only!
Lonely!

I spend my time,
With your face,
On my mind.
Just closing my eyes,
Dreaming of you.

But I can't live a dream,
Any more than I can live forever.
Any more than I can climb a mountain,
To the sun.
To the sun...
To the sun...

I can't live a dream,
Any more than I can live forever.
Any more than I can climb a mountain,
To the sun.
To the sun...
To the sun...

No I can't live a dream,
Anymore than I can move a mountain.
Anymore than I can live my life,
Without you.
Without you...
Without you...

No I can't live a dream,
Anymore than I can live forever.
