All Over Now

The Perishers

I no longer pray for tomorrow I've started to pray for today 'Cause I still can't feel nothing but sorrow And I do all I can to make that go away

Well, it's all over now We're through somehow Too bad, I couldn't solve your riddle in time It's all over now

I no longer long for the summer And I no longer care 'bout the snow A just know, I can't take this much longer I wonder how low one can go
