

She Said

The Pharcyde

I guess everybody needs somebody to love you can't leave love lonely cause being naive to it you can just lose it like that See kisses for bruises don't make it heal back it be'z the sex appeal that's from the next and not necessarily the sex and one might appeal to the intellect having a greater affect on how they feelin' stimulation breakin down their shields for the real and as it stands mysteriously curiosity it kills the cat and offsets them mentally so they're trapped in behind these fantasies with no action searchin for a remedy now she loves her man but there is just a different type of chemistry that flairs when her desires on fire quick is the fuse anotha loves for hire

And she said...

It'll be good if you stayed with me tonight so I granted her wish

(Fatlip)
