

Kill, Kill, Kill

The Pierces

What were you doing in my dream last night, honey?
Well I thought I locked that door up tight, baby.
Well it's a mystery to me
How you keep on slippin'
in my mind.
And it's downright dirty that this 'ol wound
Won't heal with time

Well you could wash my brain
You could tear out my heart
But I would never forget you
(never...)
You could change my name
I could make a new start
But I would never forget you
(never...)

And it's kill... kill.. killin' me
It's Kill Kill Kill Kill Killin' me
That I'm still in love with you

Just when I think, I've got you in safe keeping That's when your memory, it comes round creepin'
Well it's an ache I can't shake
It's creped down deep down to my core
But babe I can't fake it, I can't take this heartbreak Anymore....

Well you could wash my brain
You could tear out my heart
But I would never forget you
(never...)
You could change my name
I could make a new start
But I would never forget you
(never...)

And it's Kill... Kill.. Killin' me
It's Kill... Kill.... Killin' me
That I'm still in love with you

(it's killin' me)

I asked you please to leave my heart
But you refused to go
I can't take this pain much longer
You insist on teaching me what I already know
Absence made this heart grow fonder

Ahh...

[meow]

Well you could wash my brain
You could tear out my heart
But I would never forget you

(never...)
You could change my name
I could make a new start
But I would never forget you
(never...)

And it's Kill... Kill... Killin' me
It's Kill... Kill... Killin' me
That I'm still in love with you....
