Kill, Kill, Kill

The Pierces

What were you doing in my dream last night, honev? Well I thought I locked that door up tight, baby. Well it's a mystery to me How you keep on slippin' in my mind. And it's downright dirty that this 'ol wound Won't heal with time Well you could wash my brain You could tear out my heart But I would never forget you (never...) You could change my name I could make a new start But I would never forget you (never...) And it's kill... killin' me It's Kill Kill Kill Killin' me That I'm still in love with you Just when I think, I've got you in safe keeping

That's when your memory, it comes round creepin' Well it's an ache I can't shake It's creeped down deep down to my core But babe I can't fake it, I can't take this heartbreak Anymore...

Well you could wash my brain You could tear out my heart But I would never forget you (never...) You could change my name I could make a new start But I would never forget you (never...)

And it's Kill… Kill.. Killin' me It's Kill… Kill…. Killin' me That I'm still in love with you

(it's killin' me)

I asked you please to leave my heart But you refused to go I can't take this pain much longer You insist on teaching me what I already know Absence made this heart grow fonder

Ahh...

[meow] Well you could wash my brain You could tear out my heart But I would never forget you (never...)
You could change my name
I could make a new start
But I would never forget you (never...)

And it's Kill… Kill… Killin' me It's Kill… Kill… Killin' me That I'm still in love with you….
