

No Matter What You Say

The Planet Smashers

Question marks in the dark making hard to start always never knowing suddenly I can see how the path lies for me it's time to get going I perceive your concern
And I try to relate you say I should be staying
You resist and insist telling me to beware
Like you've already been there
No matter what you say, I'm on my way
No matter what you say I'll do it anyway
I say to each his own all is told it is wrong
Not to recognize this I'm aware of your advice
I really do understand I hear what you're saying
No more misunderstanding I won't be caught Demanding for your reassurance cause it has no