

No Self Control

The Planet Smashers

I was told I had my senses, I was doing fine
But that's all changed, no recollection
Those days I left behind.
You're in my head, it's worse when you're in front of me
When I see you I can't do anything
You're so drop dead I lose all my motor skills
You see me falling are you laughing?

Self Control no self control need no motivation
Self Control no self control need no provocation

Can't stop my thoughts, they follow you everywhere
You move so fast that I get dizzy
And now I trip when I walk next to you
How can I manage this affliction that you've given me
You're in my brain, swirling like a chemical
You leave me on the floor sputtering
The thermostat is useless when I'm with you
98 degrees and I'm still trembling!!!

Self Control no self control need no motivation
Self Control no self control need no provocation

I can't move forward I can't look back
I've been crippled by your love attack
It's deep within me it's like a disease
You're burned into my brain
I'm losing all my self control

Self Control no self control need no motivation
Self Control no self control need no provocation
Self Control no self control need no motivation
Self Control no self control need no provocation

I can't move forward I can't look back
I've been crippled by your love attack
It's deep within me it's like a disease
You're burned into my brain
I've lost all my self control
