Red Sails In The Sunset

The Platters

Red sails in the sunset, way out on the sea Oh, carry my loved one home safely to me She sailed at the dawning, all day I've been blue Red sails in the sunset, I'm trusting in you

Swift wings you must borrow Make straight for the shore We marry tomorrow And she goes sailing no more

Red sails in the sunset, way out on the sea Oh, carry my loved one home safely to me

Swift wings you must borrow Make straight for the shore We marry tomorrow And she goes sailing no more

Red sails in the sunset Way out on the sea (Ooh-wee-ooh, wee-ooh) Oh, carry my loved one Home safely to me
