

I'd been a slave to a culture of wasted flesh
I must confess
That I took pride in my simple life

I'm not a saint
I'm not a perfect example
I live my life
Love and die
Just take one step at a time
And you'll never change my mind

Trust these words
There's not a book that can change my mind
So take this and trust me
Cus I just feel so suffocated by you
Will you let me breathe?

I've got this spite that follows me
Every problem is somehow caused by me
I will never win
So I'll take the blame for everything
I would never betray you
I'm still the same
And I'm not the only one
Who feels jaded
You build these walls between us

(And you can take this)
(Whichever way you want)
You are just a voice inside my head
(It's in my head)

(I won't question my urge to stop you)
(I won't listen or change my ways)
I won't question my urge to stop you
I won't listen or change my ways

I won't question my urge to stop you
I won't listen or change my ways
I won't question my urge to stop you
I won't listen or change my ways

Fuck your beliefs
Take them back where you found them
Open those ears
Shut your mouth and just hear my side

I'll change your mind
I will change your mind
I will change your mind
