

Kings & Fools

The Poodles

Well if you can't do the time, don't even try to do the crime
Don't do it! If you turn your back you're gonna be under attack

Don't try to roll the dice if you can't pay the price
Don't do it!
When you place your feet on this lonely dead end street

Something is shading the light in your life
The reason might be deep within, not outside
You choose to obey or deny all the rules
That come down like rain in a world full of
Kings and Fools

You're going out of your mind and feel you're loosing track of time
Don't do it!
When your sugar top-buttercup slams the door right into your face

Nitty gritty looking pretty, but you-wonder why she never got her eyes on you Don't do it!
When you take the time to see the bottom line it brings you to your knees

Something is shading the light in your life
The reason might be deep within, not outside
You choose to obey or deny all the rules
That come down like rain in a world full of
Kings and Fools

Oh it used to feel so easy, back in the days when you where you ng
Now days are filled with complication you thought would never c ome
And you need a new direction to take