

Who To Blame

The Posies

Blame it on false childhoods and false reason and false shame
Blame it on false travel, false explanation and false blame

But you don't know who to blame
But you don't know who to blame
Blame it on false blood, milking rivers from a corpse
Blame it on false tendons from the body of a horse, but --

You don't know who to blame
No, you don't know who to blame

And I'm not just here 'cause I believe you
I will make it so
Grasping rays like photographic paper, emanating glow

Blame it on false leather and false nectar and false weeds
Blame it on what you or I would never say we believe, but --

You don't know who to blame
No, you don't know who to blame

And I'm not just here 'cause I believe you
I will make it so
Grasping rays like photographic paper, emanating glow
And I'm not just 'cause we have to Go inside at night
I will overrun you and settle
With military might