

At a Loss

The Presets

You found me at a loss Because night resolved the day(?) Collected up my thoughts And threw them all away And suddenly I realize where you should have been Today

I'd move the Earth for you But you don't even care I found the way to go(?) But you're already there But something keeps me crawling back to all the things you said To me

Oh why(?) Come with me Soon you'll see Nothing lasts forever So close your eyes darling to see

Forget the ones you love And all the things you've seen And disregard the memories of the places you've been And gather up your precious things and cast them to the wind Tonight

Oh why(?) Come with me Soon you'll see Nothing lasts forever So close your eyes darling to see

Oh why(?) Come with me Soon you'll see Nothing lasts forever So close your eyes darling to see
