Restless Soul

The Proclaimers

Drift away let tomorrow have today While your dreams take tomorrow They don't fail, even when you fail Restless soul It drove you on 25 years ago It'll drive you tomorrow It can't stop it'll drive you till you drop Restless soul

You're always looking for A place your mind can rest It's not there, it's not there You feel like there's a curse Putting you to the test But you've been blessed

You're always looking for A place your mind can rest It's not there, it's not there You feel like there's a curse Putting you to the test But you've been blessed

So drift away let tomorrow have today While your dreams take tomorrow They don't fail even when you fail Restless soul.
