Sitting alone I pick up the phone
Waiting for time to hesitate but it goes on
A look in the mirror, but where is the smile
I don't believe I see the person that I really want to Stop feeding the cynic. I'm taking control
It's time to kick it out before it's gone
And it will go yo
And all I'll leave behind is a just a heart of stone
Creeping up slowly on me, I didn't notice much
But now there are two ways which I can go which one's the right
Take a good look at myself admit I was wrong
And burn the tower right down to the ground
And I'll move on
And all I'll leave behind is a just a heart of stone
All is one
All is one
All is one
All is one
Stop the spiral thats dragging me down
Bury the negative moving around
Need to cut it so I can move ahead
Need to cut it so I can clear my head
Stop the spiral thats dragging me down
Bury the negative moving around
Need to cut it so I can move ahead
Need to cut it so I can clear my head
And all I'll leave behind is a just a heart of stone
