

Shave Your Legs

The Pursuit Of Happiness

If you shave your legs I'll stay home every night
I'll defer to you, I'll let you win every fight
I'll forget about all the things that you said
All the times you've hurt me and left me for dead
If you Neet your legs I'll lie at your feet
I won't come home drunk and fall fast asleep
I'll ignore the fact that you've broken my spirit
That contempt in your voice, I'll pretend I don't hear it
I'll do anything that you want
If it means that we can stay together
I'll do anything that you want
Can't we keep the peace and stay together
If they're soft and smooth I'll be faithful and true
I'll forget all my friends that take time from you
I know you're not attracted to me any more
But we can keep that hidden behind our locked door
If they're sleek and shiny we can have a child
You can call it want you want, you can let it run wild
Just rub yourself against me once in a while
Let me run my lips down them, give me a reason to smile
I'll do anything that you want
If it means that we can stay together
I'll do anything that you want
Can't we keep the peace and stay together
