

Calling Me

The Rapture

Whatever's dangerous to you you plunge yourself into sometimes a man can't know his pain til someone probes the wound and satisfies his mind and when you make up your own rules with no regard for what you lost you make mistakes of youth

i hear her calling me
i hear her calling me
i hear her calling me

you're not a prince
you are a son
you're not the only one you see before your eyes and when you take up too much space put a frown upon my face don't believe your own lies my anger left without a trace leaving me with bitter taste i had lost so much time

i hear her calling me

yoo-hoo, ahhh
you-hoo, ahhh
