

Rainy Day

The Rascals

Most everyone remembers a special season
As for mine, I have the perfect reason
Spring is my season
I think my reason is because
Spring is full of rainy, rainy days

A rainy day
The perfect time for romance
A rainy day
The perfect time for romance
And you

Curtains of raindrops falling
People in doorways stalling
Strange faces brought together
Chased in by stormy weather
Meeting a lovely face
So beautifully wrapped in lace
Made me much more aware
The rain was there to bring her near me

A rainy day
The perfect time for romance
A rainy day
The perfect time for romance
And you

Suddenly, we start walking
Really no need for talking
Meeting her eyes of splendor
She smiles and I surrender
Hardly can keep from knowing
Just by the way she's glowing
We're both out in the rain
We kiss and then I hold her near me

A rainy day
The perfect time for romance
A rainy day
The perfect time for romance
And you

I would be so contented
If all of my time were spent with
Knowing that she'd be there
So I could care and keep her near me

A rainy day
The perfect time for romance
A rainy day
The perfect time for romance
And you
And you (you know, I just love walking in the rain)

I'll take my every morning from a dream of peace and love
We'll share each day, be it rain or shine
Together
