

Upsets and Downfalls

The Ready Set

It's hard to write out an apology
Am I the person I'm supposed to be Cause I'm a lover in a fighter's club
If my words fail to hold true
Then I think you should know
(Should know, should know)

I couldn't tell you to leave if I had to
But I can't make you believe that I want you
So please come over and I'll make right
All the sad nights and hard lines
And I will look you in the eye
Cause it's not over yet

Here we go
Give me your heart
Because I need it like I used to
You are a star shining down on me
I had a chance
And the chance is that
Baby this is all I need

See I've been running races on my own time
Shutting out the people
Who have stuck with me my whole life
So if there's something I could say
To re-stitch the ties that I let fray
Then I would surely patch that tear
Cause loose ends can go nowhere

Give me your heart
Because I need it like I used to
You are a star shining down on me
I had a chance
And the chance is that
Baby this is all I need

Give me your heart
Because I need it like I used to
You are a star shining down on me
I had a chance
And the chance is that
Baby this is all I need

Go ahead
My mouth won't say
I love that you love me
I swear that's the case
If you're left with only tears
I'm stuck with these nightmares
These ghosts and these fears

I won't let you down
I'm gonna run through the night
Till my soul's taking flight
Live in the stars
I'm watching the skies open up

With my arms waving out
Oh I've missed you badly

Give me your heart
Because I need it like I used to
I had a chance

Give me your heart
Because I need it like I used to
I had a chance
And the chance is that
